Weldon thanked Susan Bowman for purchasing the two new speakers for the PPWG new computer system. Sandy Hutton announced that on April 18, 2009, RMWG invited Margie Thompson from Maine to give the commemorative talk at the Tactile Art Center. Humanitarian assistance groups will be at the open house, April 19 from 1 p.m. until 4:00p.m. presenting demonstrations and answering questions from several different cultures. Judi Arndt will have a display of her African Textiles for all to see at this time. Ellen Alderson talked about a shop in Littleton called the Recycled Sheep, which she will ask for advertisements to place in the newsletter this fall. Robin Wilton reminded members about the Estes Park Wool Market June 11-12 with classes still available. She is looking for volunteers for the children's tent. Weldon reminded all that the May program will be presented by Sally Kuhn on rug making. Following the program, our annual luncheon will be at Giuseppe's Old Depot Restaurant starting between 12:30 p.m. to 1 p.m. Weldon reminded members not to bring food or drinks into the meeting area, program area or around the show and tell table. Following show and tell, the meeting adjourned at 10:50 a.m.

2009-2010 Nominations

As most of you know, Officer Elections happen at the May meeting each year. Are you looking for a way to contribute your skills to PPWG? Contact your Board anytime or the Nominating Committee that is formed in January of each year.

A big thank you goes out to members willing to fill these roles and bring their own unique perspective to each job. Proposed slate for Officers and Committee Chairpersons is as follows:
